Description:

IoTgo is an open source IoT platform, like WordPress, ZenCart and all other open source software, you can deploy your own IoTgo cloud platform.

ITEAD Studio is committed to provide a complete set of hardware for the cloud platform with open source hardware designs and open source firmware code.

Why IoTgo

Intelligent hardware project is comprehensive. To accomplish a project like that, it requires not only the proficient skills of hardware design and embedded devices coding, but also the reliable supports from cloud servers and web UI.

No one could be good at all these areas in the same time. It's hard to find a complete IoT open source resource including hardware, firmware, server and web UI. Here provide this complete IoT open source solution for you.
