Common

Description:

Bosch ConnectedExperience (BCX) is Europe's largest IoT hackathon. More than 700 developers are bringing the IoT to life in Berlin on May 14-15, 2019. Domain-specific hack challenges feature various software and hardware stacks from Bosch and its ecosystem partners.

Meet fellow backend and frontend developers, product owners, product managers, UX experts, and innovators from Bosch customers, partners, and startups. You will work together in teams on the UX, the UI, and the code to create early prototypes, implementing Bosch IoT Suite services to accelerate the development process and produce quick, tangible results.
Hackers can make use of over 80 connectable devices – including cars, motorcycles, robots, whitegoods, cameras, power tools, production machines, and sensors.
