- Closest to the protocol, the platform engineer must own integration with other projects, both at the keeper level as well as the smart contract level. The platform engineer must be a fan of rugged documentation and protocol evangelism. Above all, this smart contract engineer must be at the heart of constructing system diagrams, which will feed into UX and UI design and the final shape of the protocol.

What we need done

Produce System diagrams based on specifications

Integrate the Protocol with other projects

Write blog posts on development updates, work done, lessons learned, and best practices.

Delegate tasks to designer and developers

Ensure all developer and API documentation is thorough and up to date

Give tech talks / presentations at workshops

Educate Lendroid Keepers about the protocol

Gather feedback and share with the team

Provide suggestions on how the protocol could be improved
