Description:

Upcoming 2020 spring edition for IoTHINGS, Italy's leading B2B event for IoT-focused business, experts and professionals.

IoTHINGS Milan 2019, which took place on April 3rd and 4th has been a success with more than 3000 participants, 135 sponsoring companies, exhibitors and partners. An international and heterogeneous audience attended 30 conference sessions with more than 181 speakers discussing about the more innovative IoT solutions and products.

The 2020 edition will take place at MIND, Milano Innovation District, the area that hosted Expo 2015, and which is now being transformed in an excellent scientific and technological district. MIND will become a new district that will include the new IRCCS Galeazzi Hospital, University of Milan's new scientific faculties campus, and Human Technopole, an international research institute for the leaders in Life Sciences, Healthcare, Biotech, Pharma, Agrifood, Nutrition and Data Science. This special location will allow sponsors and exhibitors to set up exclusive live experiences both outdoor and indoor, using this area as a "Smart City" and "Living Lab".
